About Boulevard Travel and the Exclusive Sports Air Program

History

Over the past 15 years, Boulevard has been providing customized travel advice for multiple sports teams and organizations across North America. Today, Boulevard is recognized as Canada's largest Amateur Sports travel provider. In our continual efforts to reduce travel costs for athletes, parents and organizations; Boulevard entered a difficult task to build a sports program with airlines that met the requirements of athletes.

Attributes of Program

Cost Benefit – As part of Boulevard's service, we are continually trying to reduce the travel costs for our teams. This becomes a very time consuming practice, but worth it in the long run.

Flexibility – Sports teams and athletes require flexibilities that most other groups do not require. Due to this uniqueness, airlines have shied away from offering a specific sports program. . Our approach towards travel bookings is different from other typical agencies in that we take a very proactive approach to managing your travel. Our team fights for the best rates and consistently returns significant savings. The goal of our sports programs has been to encourage the sports to secure travel early and then ensure we have the necessary flexibilities in place to accommodate any last minutes changes. We have seen an increase of teams booking early, thus simplifying everything.

Reports - It is also important to recognize the needs to the travellers and the assistants who book as well as the back office accounting teams who require detailed reports for account reconciliation and budgeting purposes.
